Capt Rawley knew Charlie Brakchord had been hit by a golfclub, a possibilty not not exotic enough for the FBI and CIA and some other federal and state investigating bodies who elbowed the locals aside.

He guessed also that it had been Eddie's son who hit the senator since he had seen him playing when he left the club that evening, and he guessed why when he saw the Mogus makeup after all the important officials had examined the corpse. He chuckled at the Feds searching for Argosy Trenthorn and Billy Mogus.

Had they asked him he could have told them that the real Billy at boozedry Bide a Bit(thus didn't give sermon at church) more patient than minister though he preached his face the color of bacon

grease
